Warning for cyclists

BY JESSICA DUNCAN

jessica.duncan@mk-news.co.uk

A DRAMATIC video of a cyclist being hit by a car has been shared with MK NEWS and now the victim is warning those on both two and four wheels to be more careful.

Sarah Thornton, pictured right, was riding her bike home from work through Newport Pagnell when she was hit by a car on the roundabout connecting the High Street to Wolverton Road.

The crash threw the 24-year-old horse groomer from her bike and the car crushed the bicycle's front wheel.

The accident was caught on camera by a motorist who was driving their car behind Sarah at the time.

"I managed to get up but that is because I just wanted to get out of the road," Sarah said.

"Working with horses I am used to being knocked about sometimes and thought I was fine, but the next day I was struggling to breathe."

The incident left Sarah with a lump on her leg and sharp pains in her chest that made it difficult for her to breathe for a few days afterwards.

After two trips to Milton Keynes Hospital, Sarah, who lives in Caldecote Street, Newport Pagnell, was told she had suffered severe tissue damage to her chest.

She was unable to ride her two horses for days afterwards and had to take it easy helping out with the animals at work.

Following the collision Sarah wants to highlight the need for cyclists and drivers to be aware of each other and said Newport Pagnell in particular can be a bad place for people to ride on the roads.

She added: "I usually cycle very slowly down the footpath as the High Street can be very busy. Just be very aware of drivers and think ahead."

Sarah said she perhaps should have worn a reflective vest, but she was riding her bike in broad daylight and other drivers said they had seen her.

Network Rail fined £53.1m for late trains

NETWORK Rail bosses were expecting to be fined for late trains, MK NEWS can reveal.

On Monday the rail giant was fined a record £53.1million by the Office of Rail Regulation (ORR) for failing to meet punctuality standards.

Only 90 per cent of its trains were on time, which is 2.5 per cent below the ORR target for 2009-14.

Network Rail also committed to deliver average punctuality levels of 92 per cent in the long distance passenger services sector in 2013-14, but only delivered 86.9 per cent. And for London and the South East (LSE) passenger services, its trains were on time 89.6 per cent of the time, less than the 93 per cent target.

Network Rail said the targets were missed because it was running more services to meet higher demand, with one million more trains being run since 2004.

Mick Cash, acting general secretary of transport workers union RMT, warned the money to pay the fine would come from the critical safety maintenance budget, but a Network Rail spokesman said that safety would not be affected by the fine.

Mark Carne, Network Rail's chief executive, said: "We accept that we have fallen short of the regulatory targets for train punctuality and that this is, in part, down to our failure to reduce infrastructure faults quickly enough."

Network Rail has also agreed to set aside £25million for weather resilience projects in South East England to improve punctuality.

Toy bus and bike stolen from charity

A PRE-SCHOOL had £600 worth of equipment stolen in a burglary on Monday night.

A shed at registered charity Coffee Tots in Jonathan's, Coffee Hall, was broken into by two lads between 10.30pm and 11pm, with CCTV capturing images of the boys.

The pictures show them stealing a metal toy bus worth £450, which three children can fit into, and a £150 bicycle.

Steve Coventry, chairman of the committee which runs the pre-school, has urged the public to keep an eye out for the items and return them, otherwise Coffee Tots will have to raise the money to replace them.

He said: "It's really annoying because we're just a small charity and people have no respect for other people's property."

A skip outside Coffee Tots was subjected to an arson attack in April and additional lighting will now be considered to improve security.

Mr Coventry thinks the burglars may have been disturbed because other items including bikes and trikes were found in hedges in the grounds.

He also said that Thames Valley Police had been contacted and that officers were due to review the CCTV images last night.

Anyone with information can contact police on 101.

£880,000 spent on hotel beds for homeless people

BY JAMES AVERILL
james.averill@mk-news.co.uk

MILTON Keynes Council is spending more than £880,000 a year on housing homeless people in city hotels.

This newspaper can reveal that seven hotels are being used across the city to shelter families without their own property – and it's costing the council, on average, £17,008 a week.

It follows our exclusive front page two weeks ago about the Hotel Different Drummer, in Stony Stratford, being paid £190,000 a year to offer a base to the homeless. It is fully booked for the rest of 2014.

The council conceded in our previous story that choosing bed and breakfast accommodation was a 'last resort' but that it had 'no choice' due to housing shortages locally.

We had requested the names of each hotel that was being used by the council – but it refused to name the other six, saying it would be 'unfair'.

The average weekly figure of £17,008 equates to £884,416 over a year and the number is a disturbing one to Andrew Pakes, Labour's parliamentary candidate for Milton Keynes South.

He said: "I think the high cost of bed and breakfast accommodation is the worst part of the legacy from the Conservative administration.

"It is a shameful record that MK has to spend this much on temporary accommodation."

However, Conservative leader Edith Bald said: "The Conservatives averted a potentially disastrous situation on homelessness.

"Actions taken by the Conservatives saw families living in B&B fall from a peak of 90 to under 50 and initiatives put in place to improve the situation even further. If followed through by the new Labour council our actions to reduce families in B&Bs will see these levels fall further."

Cooking up a storm: Partially sighted Max Tappenden, 24, is excited to meet his favourite chef

Max to meet Michel Roux

FIVE partially sighted young people have won the chance to meet chef Michel Roux Jnr after showing off their culinary expertise.

VICTA, in Woolstone, supports blind and partially sighted children and young people from birth to age 29.

Following a competition the charity has selected five winners to spend next Tuesday with Mr Roux after they created and photographed their own dish.

One of the winners was Max Tappenden, 24, from Caldecotte.

He cooked salmon baked with lemon and olive oil accompanied by rice and vegetables and is looking forward to meeting Michel. Max said: "I have always been interested in good food and I am a fan of Mr Roux's. VICTA provided me with the support I needed when I was at school and I wouldn't be as independent as I am now if it wasn't for them."

£1.5m will get station on track

BY JAMES AVERILL
james.averill@mk-news.co.uk

A SCHEME to redevelop Bletchley rail station has been given £1.5million funding – and will create 350 new jobs.

And in further good news for the area, £23.5million has been set aside to fund a new stretch of the A421 dual carriageway from Milton Keynes to Bedford.

The funds boost for both schemes has come from the South East Midlands Local Enterprise Partnership (SEMLEP), which on Monday was awarded a Local Growth Deal worth £64.4million for the region.

Talk of redeveloping Bletchley has grown after the station was included in the East West rail project and as recently as September last year Bletchley and Fenny Stratford Town Council was drawing up potential plans.

Bletchley Park councillor Ann Clancy said: "How we develop the station over the next few years is going to be key to the future of Bletchley. Integration with Queensway is what we really need to look at. This is a good step forward."

The funding for the A421 project will also create an additional 2,500 new jobs and 2,900 new homes.

MK Council's leader, councillor Peter Marland, said that funding for both projects was 'excellent news for MK'.

Both city MPs, Mark Lancaster and Iain Stewart, agreed and praised how the funding could be the start of further investment.

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Billy Harley feels that it's all about service. 'Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 5 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.'

No more cuts to A&E

WE ARE appalled that either Milton Keynes or Bedford – or possibly both – could lose fully functioning A&E services ('A&E services in Milton Keynes could yet be upgraded', MKWeb, July 2).

Both are big towns serving extensive rural and small-town hinterlands. We absolutely reject any scheme which sets one population against another in competition for such a vital medical service.

All first aiders, ambulance and A&E staff know that in real emergencies (a road accident, stroke or heart attack) early intervention saves life.

Against worthless bland-speak about 'extensive modelling of patient flows and travel times', 'affordability' and 'deliverability' is the stark reality that more injured, sick and frightened people are going to die stuck in traffic.

This dismal review – which with its forerunner has now wasted £5million of NHS money (our money) – considered 36 options, but rejected all those enabling both places to keep a full-scale A&E. Why? Just a pathetic 'financially unsustainable' according to some accountant's arbitrary targets.

Equally dismal is the pussyfooting of local politicians like Nigel Long and Andrew Pakes. They complain about process, but dare not stand up to the Government or their own party leaders.

People of all local towns – Bedford, Luton, Northampton, Milton Keynes – should fight this together. Join your local anti-cuts or NHS defence campaign.

Join the march 999 Call for the NHS this summer. It retraces the 1936 Jarrow-London hunger march with stops at Northampton and Bedford about September 1.

And tell your local leaders and parliamentary candidates: no more cuts or privatisation of our beloved NHS.

Christina Sosseh
Chairman of Milton Keynes Against the Cuts (COR)

Have a say on health

REGARDING your story on MKWeb entitled 'Public go online to reveal health care priorities'.

The current review of healthcare services is something that everyone in MK should be interested in.

But what your report fails to mention is that only 26 people completed, or partly completed, the survey, which is very disappointing.

The Clinical Commissioning Group seems to be investing a significant amount of time and effort in online, but its Facebook group only has 23 Likes, so again isn't giving it a great return.

There is another participation forum planned for Wednesday, July 23 at the Milton Keynes Christian Centre, Strudwick Drive, Oldbrook, at 5.30pm, which people have to register to attend.

To register, or for more details, email mkccg.review@nhs.net or call 01908 278738.

Club should set goals

IF A quarter of the stewards at MK Dons cannot pass basic maths and English, it's no surprise that there have been complaints from fans.

In hindsight, those with dyslexia should perhaps be given more support, but that cannot possibly attribute to all 30 being let go.

Anyone who says that these tests have no relevance to the job is clearly in denial or has a severe lack of understanding of how the world works. Besides, it's not like they've been sacked, it's the club's prerogative to employ people who best represent it.

How can anyone criticise it for introducing minimum standards?

These people are often the face of the club, indeed the only people that the majority of fans have access to.

Having previously worked as a steward for the Dons, I can say that it's about time. There were a number of colleagues, at that time, that I felt were not setting a very good example.

Hopefully MK Dons can continue to set high standards. I take a lot comfort knowing that the club is hiring the best people to look after the safety and security of my family and I.

Craig Bowler

ONE of the problems is that the stewarding role has changed and they will be required to do more.

The club needs people who can deal with the public in a more proactive way and be more than just crowd control.

There has been a move away from the old days of fans towards customers over the past few years.

Those rallying against change can see if there are better jobs for them elsewhere.

Robin Edmonds

AS LONG as they can do the job, what on earth does it matter if they can't spell or add up?

If they've been doing the job for years with no problem, what's the problem?

Kim Moore Anderson Gettings

Hump over bus lane

I LIVE in Countess Way. We have gone from Santa Pod to lorries causing our homes to shake as they speed over the bumps.

Remove the humps now, put in a roundabout halfway down and take out the bus lane – it's being used as a shortcut and needs to be redesigned.

mkdonspaul

IF YOU remove the bus lane services will be compressed as Countess Way is used as a short cut out of Kingston.

Traffic backs up and the bus lane gives us bus drivers a fair chance of keeping services running to time.

Also the speed ramps have caused many problems. I've been forced to brake hard and pushed up the kerb all because drivers try and cut into the bus lane to try and avoid them.

People also park in the bus lane – mainly taxi and delivery drivers.

Put a camera up. This will soon stop speeding and drivers using the bus lane.

MP talks about why he fought for khat ban

THE drug khat has been made illegal in the UK after a seven year campaign by myself and members of the East African community living in the UK.

I first realised khat was a problem when I met with a young woman at my regular surgery in MK. At first all seemed well and she calmly told me about the impact it was having on her family but then she broke down in tears. She told me the drug was literally ripping her family apart with her husband disappearing for days and not financially supporting the family.

This was to be the first of many similar approaches to me by constituents from many different backgrounds, pleading for the Government to take action on khat.

Another constituent in particular comes to mind. Her brother was charged in France for transporting khat in his delivery van en-route to the Netherlands in 2013. He had no idea his load contained illegal goods and subsequently spent several months in custody while facing a hefty fine.

Understandably, she could not understand why khat was legal in this country when it had been banned throughout Northern Europe and frankly, neither could I.

The leaves and shoots of khat contain the stimulants cathinone and cathine, both of which, in their pure forms, are banned substances in the UK. They are also found in amphetamine-like drugs such as mephedrone and methylone, which are also Class B drugs. Cathinone can cause damage to the central nervous system, hallucinations and, in rare cases, schizophrenia. Hyperactivity and sleeplessness are also common side effects of chewing khat.

The health effects of the drug though remain unproven, mainly because evidence has simply not been collected, however, the physical impact of the drug on community life is there for all to see.

Alarmed by these cases, I began a campaign to get khat classified as an illegal drug. It has been a long campaign, but finally, khat is now a Class C drug. This legislation brings us in line with our European counterparts such as the Netherlands, France and Germany where khat is illegal.

The ban, warmly received by the majority, is just the start. I have been impressed by the police approach, with education and soft enforcement being the focus; a warning followed by a penalty fine before further more serious action can be taken if required.

Nobody is seeking to alienate anybody through this ban and I am confident that with the support of the community the drug will not simply disappear underground.

The Home Secretary and Parliament were right to vote and introduce this ban and I hope that it makes a small contribution to the quality of life here in Milton Keynes.

Court could be knocked down

Backing neighbourhood plan: Cllr Mohammed Khan wants to see Serpentine Court demolished

BY JAMES AVERILL
james.averill@mk-news.co.uk

A COUNCILLOR has said he 'cannot wait' to see Serpentine Court knocked down – and residents agree.

Demolishing the housing estate – built in the late 60s – and constructing replacement homes is one of the priorities of the proposed neighbourhood plan for the Lakes Estate area.

Residents registered on the electoral roll will get the ultimate say on whether to approve the neighbourhood plan in a referendum that is expected to be held in September or October.

And Mohammed Khan, a Milton Keynes councillor in the Bletchley East ward, told MK NEWS: "You can see the condition of the homes that people are living in here, it's terrible. They are not of standard.

"I grew up here and have seen the state of it, I can't wait to see this place going down and give hope to young people."

Residents would move into two proposed developments on the site prior to it being demolished, but this could take as long as five years.

Stella Hoskin, 26, has lived in Serpentine Court for six years and has one child with another on the way.

She said: "Nobody has a problem with the idea of knocking it down, that would be fantastic. But it is the wait that is the problem and we can't live in conditions like this for years. I'm not proud of where I live at all."

Residents have raised concerns to MK Council about thin windows letting drafts in, cracks and leaks in walls and the quality of materials.

The neighbourhood plan reports there is an 'increasing maintenance backlog'.

Man robbed of Xbox

A 58-YEAR-OLD man was robbed of an Xbox on a redway in Beanhill. Around 10am on June 29, the victim was approached by a slim white man on a bike, who was about 20 and claimed the new console was his and punched him in the face. Call police on 101.

Funding for victims

THE Police and Crime Commissioner for Thames Valley, Anthony Stansfeld, has been awarded an additional £373,000 to support victims of crime.

Two men jailed for burglaries

TWO men have been sentenced to a total of 37 months' imprisonment after pleading guilty to burglary offences on new housing estates.

Aaron Merivale, pictured, 36, of no fixed abode, and Carl Johnson, 33, of Malvern Drive, Fullers Slade, were sentenced at Aylesbury Crown Court on Thursday.

The three burglaries happened in June 2013 when Merivale stole a number of new ovens, dishwashers and washing machines from new housing plots in Oakridge Park, Oakgrove and Ada Walk, Oakgrove.

Merivale was sentenced to 21 months and Johnson received 16 months after pleading guilty to three counts of handling stolen goods.

£2.3million crash pay out

A 25-YEAR-OLD man who suffered life-changing injuries in a car crash on the A509, Newport Pagnell, has won £2.3million compensation from the driver's insurer.

Kyriacos Georgiou, of Winchmore Hill, North London, narrowly survived a brain haemorrhage and suffered many fractures after the car in which he was a passenger flipped on its roof and the driver, Rui Ribeiro, 42, died. Mr Georgiou launched a claim for damages against Mr Ribeiro's insurance company, which admitted liability after Mr Ribeiro failed to control the car.

Upbeat: Joe Harrison, chief executive of MK Hospital where work has started to improve the A&E

There's hope for our A&E service

BY JAMES AVERILL
james.averill@mk-news.co.uk

ACCIDENT and emergency services could still be upgraded in Milton Keynes as part of a £3.2million healthcare review.

It is believed that 14 possible options in the city have been whittled down to just three.

These include A&E services being upgraded in MK while Bedford is downgraded to an integrated care centre.

The second option is the opposite, with MK being downgraded and Bedford becoming a major trauma centre.

The third and final idea is for both A&Es to be downgraded and for a major trauma centre to be built elsewhere.

The review does conclude that emergency services at both Bedford and Milton Keynes is not sustainable in the long term.

But Milton Keynes Council's cabinet member for health, Cllr Nigel Long, has slammed the transparency of the process.

He told MK NEWS: "The problem with this whole process is that it lacks transparency. The reason for that is that somewhere along the line someone will lose out.

"This has to get out in the public domain as soon as possible so that a proper debate can be had."

Meanwhile, MK Hospital's chief executive Joe Harrison says work is carrying on to improve the hospital.

He said: "We don't want to sit and wait around during the process and we have just started work on improving capacity at A&E."

£48m Serco deal is signed

SERCO has extended its recycling, waste and street cleansing contract with Milton Keynes Council for a further four years – in a new contract valued at £48million.

The group has also been awarded a new five-year contract – with the possibility of it being extended to 10 years – to manage the council's landscape maintenance and associated services from November this year, which is worth a further £10million.

Mike Boult, managing director, said: "Our track record in MK helped us to understand and prioritise the needs of the local residents."

Reckless driver captured in act

BY JAMES AVERILL
james.averill@mk-news.co.uk

A RECKLESS motorist was caught on camera seconds from disaster – after attempting an illegal left turn.

An A 3G camera from Intelligent Telematics captured the exact moment when the driver of the Ford Focus attempts to make an illegal left turn from the outside lane of the A4146 – near Milton Keynes Village – down the wrong way of a slip lane, missing the commercial vehicle by a matter of centimetres.

A major collision was only averted by the quick thinking of the HGV driver who works for WS Transportation.

The high definition video footage shows the HGV driving within the speed limit approaching the junction as the car swerves into its path to make the illegal turn, forcing the HGV to rapidly reduce its speed to avoid an impact.

David Cox, managing director of WS Transportations, said: "If our truck had hit the third party in the rear then the burden would have been on us to prove that they were at fault – this is where the use of cameras are proving to be invaluable."

Close call: Video footage of this near-miss sparked fury online

The video, the most viewed story on www.mkweb.co.uk on Wednesday and Thursday, sparked fury among our Facebook fans.

And a number highlighted how they had now installed front and rear cameras on cars, to avoid taking the blame if an accident occurs.

One reader, Graham Corgan, of Downhead Park, said: "I see driving like this nearly every day in Milton Keynes, hence me deciding to do the same as the lorry firm and look at forward and rear facing cameras."

Louis Keen added she 'would look into' a dashboard camera.

It all adds up to Chinese maths

BY JAMES AVERILL
james.averill@mk-news.co.uk

DENBIGH School has been selected as one of only 32 in England to be chosen as a new hub for implementing 'Shanghai-style' maths.

The secondary school, based in Shenley Church End, will be part of a new network of school-based centres designed to improve maths education for children across the country.

It has been chosen as the lead school in the Maths Hub that will cover an area of approximately 800 square miles and 600 schools in Milton Keynes, Bedfordshire, Buckinghamshire and Northamptonshire.

The Maths Hubs programme, backed by £11million from the Department for Education, will see an exchange of teachers between schools in the hub and those in Shanghai in China.

This research project will start with two teachers, including one from a primary school in the local hub area, travelling to Shanghai in the autumn term this year. The Chinese teachers will make a return visit later in the year.

Top of the class: Headteacher Sarah Parker and deputy Andy Squires were taught about maths in Shanghai and Singapore

Headteacher Sarah Parker and senior deputy headteacher Andy Squires have already made visits to Shanghai and Singapore to see what lessons they could learn from the schools there.

Mr Squires said: "In my opinion in the UK it is all too easy to say 'I was never good at maths'. Where we went there was an expectation that they would all succeed."

Mrs Parker added it was 'prestigious' for the school to have been selected.

Drugs pair lose jail term appeal

BY JAMES AVERILL
james.averill@mk-news.co.uk

A MAN and woman involved in a plot to flood the city's streets with cocaine have had an appeal to slash their jail terms rejected.

Michael Mullen, 34, was at the 'top of the tree' of an operation which moved 5kg of cocaine into the city – worth about £50,000 – while Debbie Bell, 32, allowed her home to be used to cut the drugs.

Mullen, of Seaton Grove, Broughton, was caged for 10 years at Aylesbury Crown Court in January after he admitted two counts of conspiracy to supply Class A drugs.

Bell, of Godwin Close, Wavendon Gate, was handed three years behind bars after she admitted encouraging or assisting in the commission of an offence.

Last Wednesday, three senior judges at London's Appeal Court rejected sentence challenges by the pair, saying their jail terms were 'neither wrong in principle nor manifestly excessive'.

Failed appeal: Michael Mullen and Debbie Bell are behind bars

Lord Justice Aikens said Mullen was in charge of the gang, which received cocaine from a London supplier, Wayne Shirley, between 2012 and August 2013.

Counsel for Mullen argued that the judge took too high a starting point before handing him a sentence that was too long.

Lord Aikens said: "The judge's starting point in Mullen's case cannot be criticised as either wrong in principle or manifestly excessive. The judge gave the full reduction for his guilty plea. This appeal must be dismissed."

Bell's lawyers also criticised the starting point for her jail term, but Lord Justice Aikens said the judge was 'justified' in passing the sentence.

U-turn on estate's bus route change

BY SCOTT KIRK
scott.kirk@mk-news.co.uk

HUNDREDS of bus users can celebrate after Arriva announced a U-turn on changes to a popular service.

The bus operator took the number one service out of Beanhill at the end of April because it was underused but it will now be reinstated after 'customer requests' were made to the company.

Councillor Steve Coventry, who represents Woughton and Fishermead on Milton Keynes Council, said passengers needed the service to go through Beanhill to access Ashfield Medical Centre in Wastel and that residents had complained about the changes to him.

"It is a real commonsense victory," said Cllr Coventry.

"I had a very large number of complaints from residents who told me that the change in the route has caused them a lot of hardship.

"I think that hundreds of people will be affected as there are many people in the area without cars."

An Arriva spokesman said the service should resume later this month.

They added: "Following some weeks of operational experience since the changes, we have been able to reinstate the link as a result of customer requests."

RETIRE EARLY AND REALLY ENJOY YOUR LIFE!

I recently had an annual review meeting with one of our successful younger clients. Hers is a very interesting story and an instructional one for all of those wannabee early retirees out there!

Her father was a client of ours for more than 20 years until he retired to the North East of England. He followed our pre-retirement planning advice and was able to retire at age 59. He and his wife have been having a great time over the last 5 years, taking lots of holidays and really enjoying their lives.

More importantly our client's father taught her how to look after her money and introduced her to me as his financial planner. I have now acted for his daughter in turn for more than 10 years.

She does admittedly have a good job so she does have an above average salary. She has, however, worked extremely hard both in her studies and at work so has achieved promotions to a senior managerial level.

This in itself is not unusual. What is unusual for a lady so young is that she has been very good at spending less than she earns. In my view this is the secret to wealth creation.

Tony Byrne
Chartered and Certified Financial Planner
Author of Wealth Magic

Her only debt has been a mortgage on her house which she has repaid at age 37! Her total estate is worth in excess of £600K.

Sensibly she joined her employer's pension scheme and pays 7% of her salary in pension contributions whilst her employer pays 13%! This is a brilliant deal for her. Why? Well the net of 40% tax contribution she makes into her pension is 4.2% of her pay but 20% gets paid into her pension every month. That is effectively an investment return of nearly 400% as a percentage of her net of tax contribution each and every month!

Her plan is to retire at age 43!

So my question to you is "Are you seriously interested in early retirement and really enjoying the rest of your life?"

If you are approaching retirement and/or considering early retirement and need advice why not get in touch?

Ring us on 01908 523740 or for free on 0800 980 4516 or email wealth@wealthandtax.co.uk.

Money on putting talent in Spotlight

BY JESSICA DUNCAN
jessica.duncan@mk-news.co.uk

A SIX-MONTH talent competition is being launched by a city music company – and it is being backed by a BBC Radio 1 DJ.

Spotlight will allow city performers aged 14 and above to showcase their talent for the chance to win a £5,000 prize.

Run by New Money Entertainment Ltd, it has already gained the support of industry experts, including BBC Radio 1 Extra's DJ Cameo, who will help judge the final.

The winner will have the opportunity for one-to-one sessions with an industry recording producer, the worldwide digital release of their final project, a music video, management consultation and even airtime on Radio 1 Extra.

Liam Browne, New Money Entertainment's marketing director, said: "This competition is perfect for musicians, producers, dancers and more."

Auditions start at The Sno Bar in Xscape on July 27 from 7pm and will continue on the last Sunday of every month until January 2015.

City comedian Jimmy Jones will host the competition – being supported by MK NEWS and MKWeb – and a public vote will decide which acts make it into the final.

New Money Entertainment started in 2011 and since then has opened a 72 track digital recording studio in Hanslope and created record label New Money Recordings.

Talent supporters: Jimmy James Jones, LBoss, Saga, Koosh, Neon Leon and Lex 5K outside New Money Recordings' studios

It's Smee!: Yes, it's MK panto pin-up boy, Bradley Walsh. He's the star of Law and Order UK, Coronation Street, game show The Chase and the new, soon to be aired, BBC comedy drama, Woody. But, come December, he'll be playing Captain Hook's whipping boy, Mr Smee – oh yes he will!

Sewing it all up

BY JUDY RILEY
editor@mk-news.co.uk

YOU voted for him; you got him. Bradley Walsh starring in Milton Keynes Theatre's panto, Peter Pan, is the best Christmas present ever.

MK NEWS talked to Bradley about the past, the present and the future – and guess what? It's all looking bright.

It's seven years since you last did panto in MK. Are you excited to be coming back?

"Absolutely, 100 per cent"

Are you co-directing the show this year?

"I'm not able to. I'm busy filming right up until about two weeks before the show opens."

JM Barrie, author of Peter Pan, says Mr Smee was Irish and good at darning. Are you handy with a needle?

"JM Barrie doesn't know anything. For me, Mr Smee is an unfortunate person of little education. He's been horribly put upon by Captain Hook but he doesn't realise it. He was probably born in the galley and had chips for his tea every day."

In Law and Order UK, as Ronnie Brookes, you have this habit of perching your glasses on your forehead. How do you keep them there? And is that something Bradley does too?

"It's the Neanderthal ridge I've got that keeps them there. And yes, I do."

There's a great cast lined up for Peter Pan including Britain's Got Talent stars, street dance group, Flawless, who are playing your fellow pirates. Will we see Mr Smee dancing alongside Flawless?

"You bet. 100 per cent. They'll be Flawless; I'll be legless!"

Green fingers can get busy at Buszy

BY JESSICA DUNCAN
jessica.duncan@mk-news.co.uk

A FREE hot meal project is on a fresh road to success thanks to a highway service provider.

Ringway, which improve city roads and highways, has installed raised garden beds for The Buszy and Milton Keynes Food Bank to grow fresh produce.

The Buszy, in Central Milton Keynes' old bus station, joined forces with the food bank in May to dish up meals on the first Thursday of each month.

The Buszy, run by social enterprise Make a Difference, already organises activities for young people but, with help from the food bank, wanted to assist other residents.

Twelve Ringway staff members volunteered to help with the carpentry, gardening and painting required.

As part of the company's corporate responsibility approach, all employees can take two paid volunteer days a year.

Fresh: Andy McPherson, Suzanne Seaman and Lee Kent of Ringway hand boxes of gardening equipment to The Buszy

The work carried out by Ringway staff included creating two large raised beds using railway sleepers, with one for vegetables and one for herbs, which have been designed to allow access for wheelchair users and fit within the old bus bays.

Specialist paints were also used to refurbish the old bollards with the original bay number plaques being kept.

Anna Peters, social enterprise manager at The Buszy, said: "These raised beds will not only help to make the free hot meal project more sustainable, but provide an opportunity for the people coming along to get involved.

"We hope to be able to expand the project further and start some education programmes with some of our young people about how to grow their own food."

NSPCC MK Half Marathon: Runners of all abilities turned out to take part in the 13.1-mile run on Sunday. A marathon effort

BY JESSICA DUNCAN
jessica.duncan@mk-news.co.uk

MORE THAN 1,000 runners took part in the NSPCC Milton Keynes Half Marathon on Sunday.

Organisers have hailed the event a huge success, after winning male runner Kevin Seaward crossed the finish line in 1.07:07 and the first female athlete, Anna Folland of Bedford Harriers, completed the route in 1.24:10.

Now in its 16th year, the 13.1-mile course takes runners through some of the most scenic routes in Milton Keynes, along the redways and the Grand Union Canal.

Over the last 15 years, the event has raised a huge amount to support the work of the NSPCC and last year celebrated reaching the half million pound mark.

Organisers hope that this year's event – supported by MK NEWS and MKWeb – will raise a further £50,000.

Sally Phipps, NSPCC's community fundraising manager, said: "We had first time runners, experienced club runners, our corporate teams, as well as two Guinness World record attempts with runners competing in sheep and camel fancy dress.

"The NSPCC MK Half Marathon has a unique place in the city's sporting calendar and residents really give it their full support.

"The funds raised will make a real difference to children – every £12 could enable us to reach another child via our ChildLine Schools Service – helping us to give them the knowledge to protect themselves from abuse.

"Thank you to everyone involved for making this possible."

‘Fitting tribute’ to headteacher

BY JAMES AVERILL
james.averill@mk-news.co.uk

THE widow of a school principal who lost his battle with cancer has praised the ‘beautiful’ memorial service held in his honour.

More than 600 people turned up at Sir Herbert Leon Academy to pay tribute to Simon Viccars, who died in November after battling with leukaemia.

Simon’s wife Pam was joined by his daughters, Sarah and Jennifer, and stepsons, Jeff and George, in remembering and celebrating his life. The family were joined by friends, teachers and nearly the whole student body.

Pam told MK NEWS: “We thought it was lovely, it was such a beautiful memorial for such a wonderful man.

“The support that the school, students and the whole community have given me and my family has been tremendous.

“The ceremony was moving and it was heartwarming to see so many people there.

“Everything that was said was said from the heart. Right from the onset the messages, emails and floral tributes that were sent my way from the community have been brilliant.”

In memory: Paul Salver at the memorial for Simon Viccars, inset

Visit www.mkweb.co.uk

The occasion was one of celebration, tinged with sadness, as there were performances from the school’s senior choir, which sang songs from Les Miserables – said to have been one of Simon’s favourite shows.

The memorial was set up by Simon’s colleague at the school, teacher Paul Salver, who said: “Simon was a wonderful man and it was at the forefront of my mind that we should remember him at the end of the year, especially for the students. It was a fitting tribute.”

Pam added: “We want to say a big thank you to Paul for all his work setting this up.”

Movie makers: The team of students from Two Mile Ash School who will show their film tomorrow

Club's premier event

BY JESSICA DUNCAN

jessica.duncan@mk-news.co.uk

THE city's first film festival for schools will take place at a cinema tomorrow.

The competition, run by production company JCC Local Media Initiatives' Junior Filmmakers Club (JFC), will see work by 10 students from five middle and secondary schools screened at the Odeon at The Point from 5-9pm.

Their work will be judged by a professional panel from the UK film industry and the winner will receive £200 to spend on film equipment.

The competition, funded by the MK Community Foundation, was launched at the Open University in February.

The schools were invited to produce a film which incorporated some of the themes identified by the foundation as challenges in our city.

They included housing, poverty, diversity, health, safety and unemployment.

The students took part in JFC's 24-week training program, which covered story and script development, crewing, casting, storyboarding and camera training.

A spokesman from Two Mile Ash School, which is one of those taking part, said: "The children have learnt all aspects of how to make a film and we are excited to see it."

Hate crime 'still problem' in MK

BY JAMES AVERILL
james.averill@mk-news.co.uk

THE chairman of Milton Keynes Equality Council thinks the number of hate crimes that take place in the city would 'surprise people'.

Visvendran Thillai firmly believes there is a problem with hate crime, otherwise there would be no need to work against it.

He was speaking after the equality council received £19,184 of funding from Anthony Stansfeld, the Police and Crime Commissioner for Thames Valley Police, to specifically deal with hate crime.

In 2013-14, there were a total of 268 hate crimes reported in Milton Keynes; 225 of which were relating to race – while the rest was made up of disability, homophobic, transgender and faith abuse.

Mr Thillai told MK NEWS: "People would be surprised how many we have reported, from school bullying to name calling.

> There is a problem with hate crime in MK, otherwise we wouldn't be there to defend against it.
> Visvendran Thillai

"There is a problem with hate crime, otherwise we would not be there to defend against it."

The money comes from Mr Stansfeld's first round of funding from the Victims of Crime and Restorative Justice Grant.

"This funding will allow training facilities and public awareness of the programme and improve the case work that we are carrying out," added Mr Thillai.

The reported hate crime figures are actually reducing, but the equality council's chief executive, Navrita Atwal, says that doesn't mean there isn't a problem.

She said: "All figures are reduced from last year which is a bad thing as we don't believe people are reporting.

"Our work is to encourage victims to report hate crime rather than suffer in silence.

"We can only start supporting victims once they start reporting."

BY JESSICA DUNCAN

NEWPORT Pagnell Carnival returned at the weekend – and despite some showers the crowd lived up to this year's theme of Go Wild.

Thousands enjoyed the range of activities across the two days, including the colourful parade, classic cars, new music stage, duck race and a selection of stalls and entertainment. The event raised money for charities and appeals including Newport Pagnell's Christmas lights.

St Francis' Children's Society base in Woolstone: CEO Alison Miller standing outside the new Family Centre that residents helped raise £50,000 towards. Thanks to the Department of Education's new grant the adoption agency plans to significantly expand its services to help more children

Boost for adoption

BY JESSICA DUNCAN
jessica.duncan@mk-news.co.uk

A CITY adoption agency is hoping to reduce the number of children in care thanks to a £400,000 grant from the Department of Education (DfE).

St Francis' Children's Society built a new Family Centre adjoining its building in Woolstone in May this year thanks to a £50,000 fundraising campaign.

But after a successful bid to receive the DfE grant it now hopes to significantly expand its services over the next two years. The society's CEO, Alison Miller, said: "The money will enable us to open other regional offices, employ more social workers and support staff and, most importantly, recruit more adopters.

"The focus of our expansion will be a new Diversity Project, which will actively seek adopters for children from minority ethnic backgrounds, children with additional special needs, older children and sibling groups."

Between April last year and March this year, the society placed 36 children with new families and approved 37 new adopters.

The DfE's expansion grant will help it recruit up to 40 more adoptive families over a 22 month period.

The society welcomes all kinds of adopters regardless of age, race religion, marital status or sexual orientation.

Titchmarsh's TV garden revamp

BY JESSICA DUNCAN
jessica.duncan@mk-news.co.uk

A FAMILY who dedicate their lives to helping other bereaved parents have had their garden transformed by Alan Titchmarsh.

Claire and Ian Estick, from Woburn Sands, were able to cope with the sudden loss of their young son Daniel by founding a charity to support other grieving families.

As a result their large garden had become overgrown and underused. To change it into the plot of their dreams, Alan was helped by David Domoney, Frances Tophill and Katie Rushworth for ITV's Love Your Garden, which aired on July 1.

The team created a greenhouse, kitchen area with barbecue, tranquil space for seating and enough lawn to include play equipment for their two children Jamie and Isabella.

Five years ago Claire and Ian were struck by tragedy when 23-month-old Daniel died in hospital from septicaemia. They were devastated by their loss but determined to ease the suffering of other parents in a similar situation.

Love Your Garden: Ian and Claire Estick with Alan Titchmarsh

The couple started The Daniel Estick Trust, which gives out hand-crafted boxes that can be filled with photos and personal items, thereby providing a focus for those grieving.

The garden will now give the family space to entertain and spend time with friends.

Claire, who previously grew tomatoes in a pop up greenhouse, can now grow extra vegetables and make more of her tomato chutney to support the charity.

After four days away while the garden was transformed, Claire said: "It was amazing – a really big surprise. You don't expect to open your door on to a camera crew.

"We use our garden every day now."

Fire safety warning on home appliances

BY JESSICA DUNCAN
jessica.duncan@mk-news.co.uk

FIREFIGHTERS are warning residents about the safety of household appliances after a tumble dryer set alight in a fish and chip shop.

Thirteen firefighters rushed to Enzo's Fish Bar in High Street, Olney, on June 23.

As previously reported by MK NEWS, passerby Michael Osborne, 53, from Olney, used a fire extinguisher to tackle the flames before the crews arrived.

The shop reopened that day but in the past year Buckinghamshire Fire and Rescue Service has attended 15 blazes involving washing machines, tumble dryers and dishwashers.

A resident from Bletchley, whose tumble dryer caught fire, said: "The kids were getting ready for school when it caught fire.

"Fortunately my husband quickly put it out, but we could have been out."

Safety hazard: The destruction a washing machine fire can cause

John Robinson, prevention policy manager for the fire service, said: "There are hidden risks associated with leaving electrical appliances such as washing machines, dishwashers and tumble dryers running while unattended.

Please help stop them by following our advice."

SAFETY ADVICE

- Don't leave appliances running overnight, or while you are out
- Do not cover machine vents
- Empty tumble dryer lints regularly
- Don't put clothes that have been used to soak up flammable liquids in tumble dryers
- Look out for recalls

Water way to enjoy IF

HEAD down to the bigger and better Milton Keynes International Festival when it starts on Friday, July 18 IF you want to be amazed.

The festival will take place over 10 days throughout Central Milton Keynes, including new venues like Willen Lake and The Cathedral of Trees.

Underpinned by an ongoing theme of sound and music, this year's event, through large-scale spectaculars such as Fous de Bassin, pictured, on Willen Lake, hopes to encourage visitors to discover what divides and unites us.

Fous de Bassin, translated as Water Fools, was created by French company Iltopie and members will literally walk on water to conjure up an extraordinary and colourful floating spectacle, with fire and pyrotechnics on the surface, on July 18 and 19 from 10pm.

Gates open at 9pm and early arrival is recommended to get a good view.

Tickets cost £5 for adults, £3 for concessions and under 16s and £12 for a family of four.

■ See inside for more information about the festival, which is being supported by MK NEWS and MKWeb.

mas-sivefun

GET into the carnival spirit, join the Mini Makers Giant Mas Camp and walk with giants on Sunday, July 20.

This year the Festive Road Walking with Giants Parade coincides with MK Fringe and IF festivals and the really nice thing is that there are no smelly trucks chewing up the atmosphere and no loud music blaring out. So it's the real, family-friendly deal!

But you don't have to hold back from the fun until the day of the parade.

On Saturday children and their grown-ups can join in with a specially extended free giant making session at MK Gallery. Then comes the day itself, when you can walk as tall as the giant you have helped create.

Go to www.mkweb.co.uk for more information.

HICCUP and Toothless return in this wittier and darker sequel to Dreamworks' How to Train Your Dragon, following on from one of the most shocking family film endings to date.

Director Dean DeBlois starts as he means to go on with a more grown up plot and threatening enemies that makes this sequel rougher around the edges.

How to Train Your Dragon 2 definitely plays to an older audience but its stunning visuals and charm still maintain plenty of family friendly fun.

Set five years after the original, the film explores more mature themes as young hero Hiccup and his dragon Toothless learn of Drago Bludvist, a dangerous villain intent on enslaving all dragons to build an army of fire breathers.

The animation is beautiful and works particularly well with the dragons that are given pet-like characteristics and quirky facial expressions that add to their charm.

There are plenty of familiar faces and new addition Valka brings a breath of fresh air and atmosphere to the film.

Unfortunately she takes a back seat in the film's final scenes, which is a shame as she would no doubt have added to the drama.

online for all the latest cinema times visit mkweb.co.uk

Toothless remains playful with great big puppy eyes and a gentle nature, yet formidable when needed.

That said you'll find him at the centre of some of the film's darker moments as his bond with Hiccup is tested to the limit.

Parents be warned; this may be upsetting for younger viewers.

It's clear that DeBlois has big plans in place for a trilogy with this story setting the scene for a bigger and potentially more heart-breaking third film, that could nip at the heels of classics like Toy Story.

ANYONE who is brave enough to record an album live is either recklessly foolhardy or one gutsy dude. Guess which profile fits Joanne Shaw Taylor?

Born and raised in the Black Country, Joanne was originally discovered by the Eurythmics' Dave Stewart. She is fast becoming one of the hottest names on the British blues circuit with enough in the way of confidence and courage to record her latest album, Songs From the Road, while on tour last year.

Joanne is appearing at The Stables in Wavendon on Friday. Go to www.mkweb.co.uk for details of other gigs at The Stables this week.

WIN the chance to enjoy an amazing day out for all the family at Woburn Safari Park.

MK LIFE has teamed up with the park to offer four lucky readers family tickets (for two adults and two children aged three to 15) to the popular attraction.

With this fantastic prize your family can enjoy a safari drive adventure and meet more than 800 magnificent wild animals.

At Woburn Safari Park visitors are transported to the savannah grasslands of the African plains.

After the safari you can park for free and get a ticket for Sea Lion Cove – an indoor sea lion pool and 3D cinema.

This summer you can also catch the new 3D mini movie that will simply knock the socks off your usual cinema trip.

You can get close enough to touch the Asian elephants at one of two daily meet and greets in Elephant Meadow.

And you can visit the Desert Springs walk-through enclosure with meerkats, mongoose and porcupines and see the new Otter Falls; home to Asian otters.

As well as all the animals there are loads of indoor and outdoor activities, including pedal powered swan boats, the Great Woburn Railway, Mammoth Play Ark and a huge soft play centre.

OUR new columnist and pet expert AMY CONVERSE is the go-to-girl with any problems that are affecting your pets.
Her topic of discussion this week is a tricky one...ticks

TICKS are not only disgusting creatures but they are also carriers of serious diseases.

They are small (0.5mm to 3mm), eight legged insects which live by biting and consuming the blood of animals.

Many types of ticks exist in the UK, but there are only a few that affect dogs and cats.

As the weather warms up, dog owners spend more time outdoors walking their dogs. Cats will also be sunning themselves and exploring in the long grass. Because eggs are laid by female ticks in the grass, this makes tick infestation more prevalent in the warmer months when animals are outdoors more often.

There are several products on the market to treat dogs and cats with ticks.

Spot-on or topical treatments have been effective in treating ticks and have been very popular. However, there are some newer treatments on the market which have been used with excellent results.

One treatment is a tick collar – making the tick feel like it is walking on red hot coals, then eventually causing it to die.

If you have any questions about ticks, speak to your veterinary surgery.

For more tips, read the full column at www.mkweb.co.uk

THE first five days of the Milton Keynes International Festival (IF) will be jam-packed with fun events when it returns to the city from July 18.

They include acrobatics by Casus: Knee Deep, pictured left, at South Willen Lake Park until July 21.

Visitors to the centre:mk will be able to walk inside Architects of Air's inflatable structure, Pentalum, in Middleton Hall throughout the festival.

They can also enjoy sounds of the Grand Union Canal by listening to Kaffe Matthews' The lock shift songs in a giant bed located near the outdoor market.

Rosemary Lee's Under the Vaulted Sky will feature more than 80 residents who will perform at the city's Cathedral of Trees in Newlands.

The award-winning artist will bring a new experience to audiences who will be able to interact with the performers.

Speaking to MK LIFE Rosemary said: "The audience will be led around in an unusual, but atmospheric and evocative performance."

nigelnatters

JUDY RILEY spoke to TV star Nigel Harman about his latest project, directing the tour of Shrek: The Musical, which is coming to Milton Keynes Theatre next summer.

Q. How does the show differ from the London production?

A. "We can't take all of the big hydraulics on tour but apart from that, it's exactly the same. It's still got all the bells, whistles and laughs."

Q. The songs are so much a part of the show that it seems surprising now that they weren't in Shrek, the movie.

A. "I love the movie, it's brilliant but there's always a point in it when you want them to burst into song. Just to see Shrek singing; to see Fiona karate kicking as she sings and Donkey should be singing! As for Lord Farquaad he has a penchant for musical theatre and the more seriously he takes himself the funnier it is."

Q. When the show opens will you take a step back?

A. "Oh I'll let it go when it opens. I'll pop in and out to keep an eye on it but I'll be directing a play called Rabbit Hole, starring Joanne Froggatt (who played Anna Bates, in Downton) which is due to open at the Vaudeville theatre in the West End in September.

Q. So no more television roles in the immediate future?

A. "Well, I'm looking at doing a low-budget film pretty soon."

Tickets for the show – being supported by MK NEWS and MKWeb – go on sale today. Book at atgtickets.com/miltonkeynes budgetbarbecue

THERE'S only one way to enjoy food in the summer and that's to have a barbecue, writes Scott Kirk.

In our household, we're finding it cheaper to make the burgers from scratch using minced beef, onions, garlic and egg. It's great getting your hands into the mixture and the kids will love it!

We bought a firepit for about £35 and if you can buy a proper grill for it then it's a really cheap way of being able to barbecue, rather than buying a proper set.

It cooks the food brilliantly as well, so it's not a second-rate substitute by a long way.

Once you've eaten it's lovely to sit around the firepit and watch the flames die down while it keeps you warm, so get in the garden and get cooking!

Best ever third place

Pit crew: Red Bull staff at Silverstone

DANIEL Ricciardo said that his podium finish at the weekend's British Grand Prix at Silverstone was the best third place he had ever achieved.

After qualifying in eighth the Australian driver, who has impressed this season, fought his way up to third for Red Bull Racing and felt the result helped redeem himself after his qualification performance.

He also said the team were not planning on stopping only once, but Ricciardo and Tilbrook-based Red Bull made the strategy work despite a late chase by McLaren's Jenson Button.

"This is the best third place I've ever got," said Ricciardo.

"I'm not normally ecstatic with a third but I really am, obviously to redeem myself from qualifying and also the fact that I don't think we had an awesome race car, but we made it work.

"We used the cards that we had and played the game well, so I was really happy to make a one stop work."

Fellow Red Bull driver Sebastian Vettel finished fifth after qualifying second, and the German defending world champion felt that it was strategy and not pace which went against him.

"I expected to get third," he said. "The pace was there but the strategy wasn't right. I'm looking forward to my home race in Germany now – it's always special to race there."

The result drops Vettel down to sixth in the overall standings, while Ricciardo remains third.

However, the latter remains 63 points behind second placed Lewis Hamilton, who won his home race at Silverstone to move within two points of Mercedes team-mate Nico Rosberg at the top.

Mercedes continue to dominate the constructors' championship and hold a massive 158 point lead over holders Red Bull who are second.

Meanwhile, Renault has changed its management structure as president and managing director Jean-Michel Jalinier has retired, with Jerome Stoll becoming president and Cyril Abiteboul named as the new managing director.

The change came in the wake of Red Bull team principal Christian Horner's criticism of Renault after he described their engine performance as 'unacceptable' – with Mercedes' engines proving much more adept to the rule changes that came about at the start of this season.

WINTER SPORTS

Team MK eye Olympics

Talented youngster: Becky Menday has been signed up

SNOW and the Winter Olympics is probably far from many people's minds at the moment, but that is exactly what is at the forefront of the thoughts of 23 snowboarders and skiers who have been signed on by the city's Snozone.

Team GB Winter Olympians use the slopes at Snozone in Xscape and the success of this year's Sochi games in Russia has helped inspire a new generation who have their sights set on future Winter Olympics.

The 23 athletes, aged from 11 to 44, have joined Team MK, becoming Snozone sponsored athletes.

Many have been riding the slopes since their early years, giving up their Friday and Saturday evenings to take part in the sport.

Mason Ferebee, a freestyle skier, is among those who have been signed up.

The 14-year-old started skiing at the age of six and has previously trained as a race skier as well as a freestyle rider. Mason has been a regular at Snozone in MK for years.

Jade Walsh, 12, is a freestyle snowboarder from MK who finished second in the British Indoor Championships last year, while Becky Menday, 15, competes in the same discipline.

She has been snowboarding at Snozone since she was nine and for the past few years has been travelling the UK and Europe competing in almost every freestyle snowboarding competition going. She has recently returned from a trip to Austria with Olympian Aimee Fuller.

Other MK based athletes include Kat Miller, Jake Binnee, Ollie Dutton, Gary Walsh, Callum Waller, Gazza Andrews, Chris Chatt, James Carr, Josh Ogden, Jack Newland, Meg Riley and Skyla Baily.

During the month of July, the Snozone sponsored riders will be on hand to coach at the 'Who's Afraid of the Park Event' – sharing their knowledge on how to ride the freestyle park features as well as stories from their own snow sports adventures.

Snozone is now calling on companies to sponsor the stars of the future.

Rare defeat for North Crawley at Thurleigh

Northants Premier League

STONY Stratford were subjected to a 148-run defeat by Peterborough Town.

Lewis Bruce was unbeaten on 120 as Peterborough declared on 241-4, with Alex Strong and Vicram Sohal claiming a couple of wickets apiece.

In the second innings Stony were dismissed for only 93, with openers Praveen Chandran and Graham Simpson top-scoring with 19 each.

Cherwell Cricket League

A TERRIFIC 7-22 by Zaheer Khan helped Wolverton Town beat Twyford by five wickets in Division One.

Kieran Lampard's 75 then helped Town knock off their target of 195 to give them victory.

Elsewhere, Michael Baker struck 97 for Great Brickhill as they posted 209-5, but it was not enough as they lost to Oxford Downs by four wickets.

In Division Three, Bletchley Town lost to Oxford Downs 2nds by five wickets after being bowled out for 119. Jonathan Meardon claimed a hat-trick for Oxford.

Four Counties Cricket League

MILTON Keynes CC held on to their last wicket to deny New City victory in Division One.

New City struck 183 in the first innings, with four players chipping in with scores in the 20s. In reply, John Richardson hit 56, and the lower order just managed to cling on as City settled for a winning draw.

North Crawley suffered a rare reverse at the hands of Thurleigh when they were bowled out for 137, going down by just five runs.

Olney Town humbled Eggington Foresters by ten wickets after bowling them all out for just 71. It took 11.3 overs for Olney's openers Marcus Bates and Paul Gallyot to seal the win.

MK City against Elstow was cancelled.

SPORTSSHORTS

KARTING

THE new Formula Kart Stars was launched at the British Grand Prix at Silverstone, with Emerson Valley ten-year-old Caden McQueen competing.

Caden has been karting since the age of five, when he won at various tracks in a Bambino kart.

Twelve rounds will be held over six weekends at the UK's premier kart circuits.

SWIMMING

EIGHT swimmers from the City of Milton Keynes Swimming Club competed in Manchester at the British Gas International Swimming Meet.

In a busy first two days, the girls relay team finished fourth in the freestyle relay plus an earlier fifth in the medley, picking up £300 in prize money.

One of the team members – 14-year-old Lucy Farmer – came fourth in the junior girls' 50m backstroke in a new county record.

Tom Flaherty, 17, made two junior finals in the first few days, improving on his 400m club record in the process. On the last evening session Tom made one more junior final in the 100m free.

Sixteen-year-old Charlotte Evans finished fifth against world class opposition in the senior 200m backstroke, setting a new south east region age group record. She also finished a creditable 11th in the senior 100m backstroke.

ATHLETICS

THE city's Olympic long jump champion Greg Rutherford was beaten by American Jeff Henderson in round four of the Diamond League in Lausanne, taking second place with a leap of 8.19m.

In Portsmouth, Marshall Milton Keynes Athletic Club's UK Women's League team worked hard in their third match and are slowly pulling clear of the relegation zone with a good sixth place moving them above Reading in the table to fifth.

The highlight of the day was a fabulous double victory in the discus thanks to Emma Beales throwing 41.89m and Emma Beardmore 35.34m. In the third Veteran's League match at Bedford the men were four points behind their hosts, while there were personal best performances at the latest Watford Open Meeting.

ROLLER DERBY

MILTON Keynes Roller Derby's female B team, the Udder Team, lost 194-125 to Birmingham Blitz Dames' B team, the Bomb Squad. The team's next event is in Norwich on Saturday, where MKRD's female A team, The Concrete Cows, will aim to maintain their position at the top of the South East division table for the Heartland Series, playing against the home side, The Norfolk Brawds.

SPEEDWAY

MK KNIGHTS face a fixture headache as they have to fit in three home meetings with only one available date at West Row before the August 30 league fixture deadline.

ICE HOCKEY

MK THUNDER have signed netminder Damien King for 2014-15 from Peterborough Phantoms. King played more than 200 games for MK's rivals, and will train with the Lightning team when available.

RUGBY LEAGUE

Galloway's Toffee Twitter follow as rumours grow

BY SCOTT KIRK

scott.kirk@mk-news.co.uk

SPECULATION linking Dons youngster Brendan Galloway with a move to Premier League Everton continues to grow.

The 18-year-old begun following the official Toffees account on Twitter and he was not present at Dons training last week.

Dons' players and coaches jetted off to Ireland for their usual pre-season training camp on Friday, but defender/midfielder Galloway is rumoured to instead be training with Everton's U21s in Austria.

Last week manager Karl Robinson said Dons would have to 'wait and see' on the future of Galloway and another young prodigy linked with a move away – midfielder Dele Alli – and that continues to be the case for the Liverpudlian.

Nothing concrete has come out of the club as yet on the two highly rated youngsters but there was a piece of very good news when midfielder Ben Reeves agreed to a two-year contract extension.

The former Southampton man impressed for Dons last season, bagging the club's player of the season award, and Robinson is delighted that the 22-year-old is now tied to the club until 2016.

"He's got all the technical components to play at the top level," said Robinson. "The sky is the limit for Reevesy and I'm looking forward to working with him once again."

Robinson is also hoping to work with a couple more forwards as his search for frontmen to support recent addition Tom Hitchcock continues.

He wants at least two more strikers, with one a target man, to provide him with options at the sharp end of the pitch, and he has already spoken with 'five or six' attackers.

The boss has identified the position as a key one to develop, with Dons struggling for goals at the end of last season.

"I want to bring in a big one and I want to bring in a really quick one so I've got three different types, which we can then chop and change," he said. "There's an awful lot still to be done. We've spoken to five or six strikers and we'll just have to wait and see.

"Overall, I would like to sign two strikers and then a loan or even a third permanent.

"If the season began tomorrow we would have a team that could start and we've still got five weeks to go."

Dons have been training on the beach in Ireland as part of their week-long fitness camp, and one player who has already impressed with his fitness levels is right back Lee Hodson.

The Northern Ireland international has spent most of his summer in the medical room at stadiummk due to a hip injury, and he said this work is paying dividends.

"I've been doing a lot of strengthening work which I needed to keep up to make sure I didn't have any problems when I came back," he told MK Dons Player.

"Touch wood, the hip has been feeling good and hopefully it will stay that way when we start doing more football-related stuff."

Dons are due to take on St. James' Gate on Monday, Drogheda United on Tuesday and Bray Wanderers a week today in friendlies as part of their tour.

Moving away?: Rumours about Brendan Galloway leaving Dons have strengthened this week.

• Lee Scriven's pictorial review of the Dons' 2013/14 season, entitled This Grey and Pleasant Land, is now available from the club shop and Waterstones. The book looks back at every game during the last campaign and includes words from Karl Robinson.

World Cup warm-up will see Saints and Sarries battle

TWO of the country's biggest rugby union teams will do battle at stadiummk as a warm-up for the 2015 Rugby World Cup in England.

Northampton Saints will play Saracens in the Aviva Premiership on April 25, 2015 – a repeat of last season's final – after defending champions Saints agreed to switch the clash from their Franklin's Gardens home to help England Rugby 2015 with their World Cup preparations.

The tournament features stadiummk as a venue for three matches so the game will be an opportunity to test the match day operations with a large rugby crowd.

Northampton have previously played three Heineken Cup matches in Milton Keynes and set the attendance record for the stadium of 22,220 against Munster in January 2012.

Saracens also 'hosted' Saints at the Dons' home in December 2012.

Saints chief executive Allan Robson said the game can kick start a big year of rugby in the area.

"Having a successful Rugby World Cup will benefit the growth of English rugby, and by working to ensure that stadiummk is ready to host matches we will also be helping to develop the sport in our region," he said.

MK Dons chairman Pete Winkelman added: "We are very much looking forward to welcoming Northampton Saints and Saracens back.

"The two teams played out an exciting game here in December 2012 in front of a packed lower tier, however, with the upper tier having opened since then, it would be fantastic if we could set a new attendance record this time around.

"The high-profile fixture provides the people of Milton Keynes and the surrounding areas with the perfect chance to warm up to the World Cup.

"It is also a great opportunity for us to work with England Rugby 2015 to ensure that delivery plans can be tested in advance of the tournament."

Saints beat Saracens 24-20 in May's Premiership final at Twickenham.
